CENTER FOR WELLBEING GIVES BACK

(Greenland, NH) – On January 19, 2022, the Directors of the Center for Wellbeing, headquartered at 3201 Lafayette Road, Portsmouth, NH presented a check for $4,900.00 to Elsy Cipriani of New Generation in Greenland, New Hampshire. The funds were collected from new clients who started their weight loss journey by signing up for the Center's Metabolic Reset Weight Loss Program between November 11, 2021 and December 31, 2021.

Dr. and Mrs. Donatello donated $50 for each new client who made the decision to take their health back and lose the weight for good and, in turn, helped this wonderful organization. On one of the days within the time period for donations, an anonymous donor matched the Center's contribution, increasing the help they could provide to this meaningful charity.

Through their work at New Generation, mothers and children escape environments of violence, substance use and life on the streets. Mothers are connected to stable employment and affordable housing. Children are raised in supportive, safe and healthy environments. Stronger and more resilient families and communities are built.

The Center for Wellbeing looks forward to future donations for 2022.

Dr. Jeff Donatello, Co-Director/Owner of the Center for Wellbeing, works with his medical team to help patients with chronic pain and inflammation using a combination of Functional and Regenerative Medicine as well as traditional insurance-based medicine. He has a 20+ year career in healthcare and is passionate about empowering people to optimize their health and wellbeing.

Kelly Donatello, Co-Director/Owner of the Center for Wellbeing is constantly curious about human potential and fascinated by the science and art of healing. She has a diverse background with 20 years of business experience combined with integrative health counseling, mind-body nutrition, and personal development. She is a lifelong student of Epigenetics, the science of "everything counts."
